Paul Stevens Named Deputy City Manager

ROWLETT, TEXAS—After a nationwide search, City Manager Brian Funderburk has named Paul Stevens Deputy City Manager for the City of Rowlett. In this role, Mr. Stevens will act as the number two official in city administration and have oversight of daily operations.

“Paul is an excellent leader with a proven track record of accomplishments,” says City Manager Brian Funderburk. “His experience working with a variety of stakeholders to provide excellent municipal services will serve the Rowlett community well.”

A seasoned municipal government professional, Mr. Stevens most recently led the City of Waxahachie as City Manager for over ten years and served as Assistant City Manager for seven.

Paul holds a bachelor’s degree in political science and a master’s degree in public administration from the University of North Texas. He is also a graduate of the University of Oklahoma’s College of Continuing Education Economic Development Institute. Paul is a member of the International City/County Management Association, Texas City Management Association and North Texas City Management Association. Community service has been a priority throughout his career. Mr. Stevens served on the board of trustees for Baylor Scott & White Medical Center at Waxahachie for 11 years, was on the Waxahachie ISD Partners in Education Committee and the Senior Citizens Center Board of Directors, and is a member of the Waxahachie Education Foundation and the Waxahachie Lions Club.

“I am very excited about joining the Rowlett team, I look forward to working with Brian, the City Council and staff on the many initiatives that are being undertaken,” says Paul Stevens. “Rowlett is a beautiful city with a “can do” attitude and my wife, Jennifer, and I can’t wait to be a part of this wonderful community!”
